Eastman's 21 Millions
Concession Events
By Arthur Brisbane

THE CONVENTION, tired of hearing itself balloting, reading over names and figures, adjourned a little before 4 o'clock yesterday until 8 in the evening. That will give men running things in private rooms, away from the convention, a chance to "see" delegates, and "talk sense."

NEWS OF THE afternoon was Missouri's break, a majority going from McAdoo to John W. Davis, taking the entire thirty-six votes to Davis under the unit rule.

JOHN W. DAVIS's vote rolled up to 12 1/2 votes on the twenty-fourth and last ballot of the afternoon.

Smith had 208, a gain of 65 over the first ballot; McAdoo 439 1/2, a gain of 7 over the first ballot.

WHEN THE BREAK came in Missouri, William J. Bryan left to consult with Mr. Adoo at the Vanderbilt Hotel, six blocks up Fourth avenue.

There will be a lot of consulting and arranging done. Bryan will fight the nomination of John W. Davis, as he thought that of Parker, perhaps no more successful.

AT THIS TIME just before the night session, the opinion of politicians is that both Smith and McAdoo will be eliminated, each being strong enough to kill off the other.

A colorful candidate would suit the powerful element in the Democratic party that wants peace first of all, and would be content to let Democrats run for office, while Republicans run the government.

That kind of candidate wouldn't disturb Mr. Coolidge's peace of mind.

IN FACT, no candidate would disturb Mr. Coolidge much, judging by conditions here.

Mr. Stone, Attorney General, having indicated the biggest oil and gasoline companies, about fifty of them, and the chief figure in the oil scandal, has taken the "all home" away from the Democratic party and made it a Republican issue, and a first class one.

THE DEMOCRATS knew enough to nominate Senator Walsh, of Montana, they could get back their house. It is the man that made the indictment and the prosecutions necessary.

To nominate Walsh would require two things. First, common sense; second, emancipation of the Democratic party from the power that nominated Parker.

THERE is one pleasant thing about politics. You turn your face away from the cheating and lying, bribing and treachery, to find that real civilization, with which politics has little to do, is steadily progressing.

KLAN SECRET SERVICE PROBES BRANDING OF KNIGHT OF COLUMBUS

CONFIDENT KU KLUXERS ARE INNOCENT BUT WILL PUNISH IF GUILTY

Rochester, N. H., July 2.—Swords of a deep-laid Klan plot, dark and sinister, have been down throughout the city in a manner savoring of the inquisition.

But Nelson B. Burrows, past grand knights of the local Knights of Columbus Council, bearing the first sword of the Klan symbols on his forehead and chest, asserted solemnly that the torments inflicted on him while a prisoner in the woods were part of an attack planned on Catholics by the Klan.

INNER SECRET BODY.
The declaration by two Klan knights that the "Klan secret service" is investigating the case that has aroused all New England gave a new insight into the depths of the Klan organization. It revealed the existence of a secret body within a secret body. If the secret service investigation reveals that Klanmen were guilty of having branded Burrows, they will be punished. It was declared today by King Klondike E. W. Gayer and Paul Blackburn of the Northern New England Klan district.

In this they were backed up by E. H. Wilson of Ohio, Klan lecturer, who is an headquarters of the K. K. K. in the old Wallace mansion here.

BURNS ARE REAL.
These three officials assert themselves, however, as confident that could be traced out with little difficulty.

SHOWING MARKS ON FOREHEAD

This photograph depicts the scars left by the iron on the head of Burrows after he had been attacked by a band which he claims was made up of members of the Ku Klux Klan.

No Klanman had a hand in the branding of Burrows. While convinced that the burns he bears are real, they stated today that they prefer to have their own physician examine him.

In investigation of the state or county authorities, or of the Knights of Columbus, or any one else will be any more thorough than their search for the guilty ones," Gayer said.

"We have our own secret service men on the case and they know where the Klan is," said Gayer. "We have no grievance against the Catholics, Church here or against the Knights of Columbus, and there is no campaign being launched by us to mark the leaders of the Klan. There has never been proven guilty of a branding, a whipping or any kind of outrage since the old days of 1865."

MISTAKE CLAIMED IN WAINWRIGHT SUIT

In the suit brought by Robert Wainwright and the other members of the firm of H. C. Wainwright & Co., against the Lacombe Car Co. and others for an injunction to restrain the payment of a dividend of $2.50 a share to holders of second preferred stock, a motion was made before Judge Watt of the Superior Court to strike out the names of all persons who constitute the firm of H. C. Wainwright & Co. Counsel, who made the motion told Judge Watt that a mistake had been made in naming the firm.

Judge Watt will pass upon the motion Wednesday next. Judge Watt refused to enjoin the First National Bank from paying out $25,000 as dividends of the Lacombe Car Co.

TAG 55 CARS PARKED AT BRAVES FIELD

Judge Brown told it to municipal officers in Brighton Court today when he cited fifty-five automobiles for parking their cars on the grounds near Braves Field for more than twenty minutes. The fifty-five came from the ball park or from other places to find tags on their cars. After a warning that next time will mean money, Judge Brown accepted pleas from the offenders and placed the case on file.

of such a match. He's too old for her."

Luce is in late middle age. The girl is twenty years old. "Who broke the match?" the match the mother was asked, and she answered, "Why, Al, to be sure."

When she was told of the cryptic telephone message and asked if she had any idea of the identity of the American's informant, she purred her lips for a moment and looked thoughtfully.

"Isn't that a fine thing for him to say?" she asked. Indignantly, "he knew nothing of it until 8 o'clock this morning. Alice talked over the telephone and then told me of it. And very glad I am. I say again. She has lots of time."

SINGER BREAKS DOWN

Just then a sister of Alice began humming "I linger awhile" on the piano in the parlor, and the mother broke into tears.

Later she said the millionaire had promised to have her daughter trained in musical conservatories in America and abroad after their marriage.

"He promised more than he ever meant to execute, that much is true," she concluded. "The reporter left the condition of Miss Alice became worse and a physician was sent for."

Mr. Luce is president of the National Fireworks Company and the Morris Ireland shoe company. He is of the socially elite in Brooklyn. He could not be reached to discuss the end of his romance.

FIGHT WITH COP MAY JAIL TWO BROTHERS

"Police Must Be Protected," Says Judge Pres in His Sentence

"The police department must be protected, we expect them to protect us, and it is the duty of the public to assist the police and not interfere with them in the performance of their duty," said Judge Ralph M. Smith in the Somerville Court today, when he found Ralph Baroni, twenty-eight years of age, guilty of assault and battery on Patrolman Patrick J. Doolin and sentenced him to serve two years in the House of Correction.

Baroni appeared and was held in $1,000. Baroni was found guilty of drunkenness and given three months in the House of Correction. He appealed and was held in $100.

Patsy Baroni, twenty-three years of age, of No. 12 Evergreen square, Somerville, was found guilty of resisting a prisoner, his brother, from Patrolman Doolin and given one year. He appealed and was held in $1,000. Lawrence J. Zamberardi of No. 23 Jonathan road, Waverley, was found guilty of assault and battery on a police officer and the case continued for sentence.

Patrolman Doolin was attempting to arrest Ralph Baroni on a charge of drunkenness when it is alleged that his brother, Patsy, rescued the prisoner. Baroni testified he was going to the assistance of the officer.

Later Officer Doolin and Sergeant Sharry were arresting Baroni, when Doolin was made the target for stings and sticks in the hands of a gang of about forty young men.

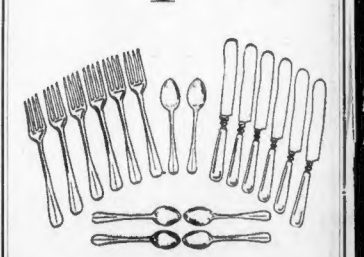

The officer was kicked in the stomach and struck on the nose by a stone.

DANCER WILL HAVE HARD TIME GETTING $20,000 LOVE AWARD

DEVER GIRL TO RETURN TO STAGE

Shaw, Loser in Suit, Says He's Nearly Broke and Can't Pay the Money

The white lights are likely to reappear soon Miss Madeleine Dever, Somerville girl and former Folies beauty, who emerged triumphant from a heart-balm suit against Philip M. Shaw, New York banker.

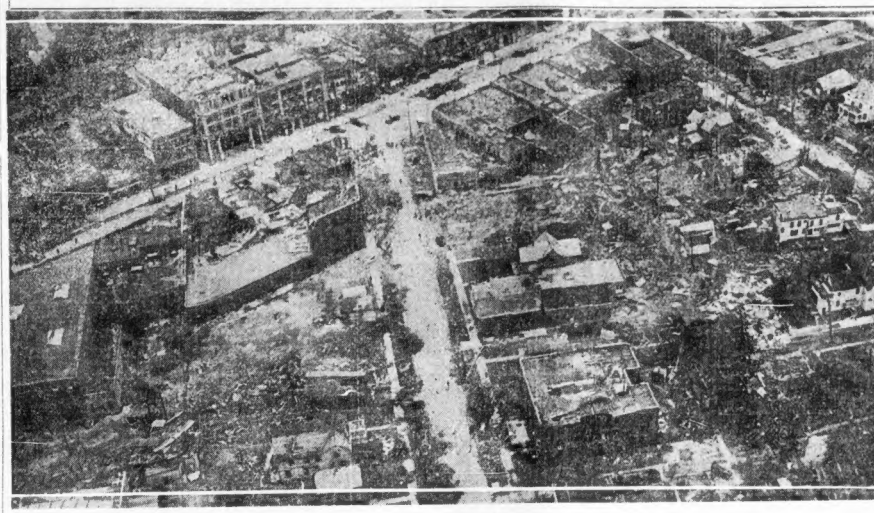

While the jubilant dancer wants to rest up for a while, spending some of the $20,000 awarded her by the jury—if she gets it—she admits that the lure of the calcium glare is stronger than ever and that, unless the money comes, she will be back again on the boards.

"Think how much time and money I have wasted in this whole affair," she said regretfully. "Why, by this time I might have been a famous moving picture star. If Mr. Shaw hadn't insisted that he didn't want his wife to have a public career, of course I like the stage better than anything else. I love it. And I'm going back just as soon as I take a long, long rest. I'm very tired, but oh, so happy."

BANKER CAN'T PAY.

Shaw, however, though loser in the suit, certainly for $100,000, may still prove a fly in the ointment. The New York banker intimates that he can't pay, that financial reverses have practically knocked his bank account. It is further understood that he has no property in his own name.

TORNADO-SWEPT LORAIN IS MASS OF RUINS

Business section of the city of Lorain, Ohio, was laid flat by the terrific wind storm that visited the northern part of the State at the end of last week. The work of relief is going on as rapidly as possible and survivors are being cared for. Property is guarded by militia, rushed from Cleveland and other cities.

"This, all Miss Dever may get out of her suit, is a 'moral victory'—vindication of her good name, but no cash. In that case, she might be compelled to return to the stage sooner than she expects, minus the good long rest she craves and which she says she has certainly earned."

Shaw will still have a sword of Damocles, in the shape of a $20,000 verdict against him, hanging over his head until he pays, however.

MOTHER SATISFIED.

Miss Dever's mother is prepared to shed no tears over the possibility of Shaw's failure to pay. "My daughter's name has been vindicated," she said with a gleam of happiness. "And that is worth more than all the money in the world. That was more important than whether we got $100,000 or $50,000."

Five jurymen voted on the first ballot to give Miss Dever the full $20,000. Two voted for $75,000, one for $50,000 and the rest for smaller amounts.

After several more ballots $20,000 was fixed as a compromise figure, but one jurymen still refused to agree, with the result that another $20,000 was tacked on.

The figures are interesting in that they show that the entire panel was for Miss Dever from the first ballot, the only disagreement being over the figure to be awarded her.

"Even though $20,000 isn't such a terrible lot of money after what I've been through," the dancer pointed, "I'm thoroughly satisfied. My good name is upheld."

WATERBURY AGENT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

New York, July 2.—Still in a seething condition from a self-inflicted bullet wound, Thomas E. Flaster, fifty, said to be an agent for a Waterbury, Ct., firm, refused today to discuss his attempted suicide at the Hotel Commodore.

Flaster was in Bellevue Hospital today and physicians were probing for the bullet in his temple. He is said to be the local official of the Plumb & Atwood Lumber Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, with a residence here.

50,000 N. Y. KLANSMEN EXPECTED AT MEET

Binghamton, N. Y., July 2.—Members of the Ku Klux Klan from all parts of the State were arriving here today for the four-day State kolono to open here tomorrow. "Between twenty and fifty thousand Klansmen" will be in attendance, officials say.

Special trains will run from various points. Members of the order will parade on July 4, wearing full regalia, according to present plans.

Two Plants Close

Springfield, July 2.—The plant of the William C. Carr Company, an underwear manufacturer, of this city, closed today for two weeks. Between 200 and 400 are employed. The Torrington Company of Chicopee, nearby manufacturers, employing about 200, also has closed for a fortnight.

UNVEIL ROOSEVELT STATUE IN N. DAKOTA

Mandan, N. D., July 2.—Many friends and members of the family of the late Theodore Roosevelt were here today for the unveiling of a marble statue of the President. Klansmen are planned to precede the unveiling. The statue shows Roosevelt as a rough rider. A parade of former ranch life acquaintances, representatives of the American Legion, G. A. R. and his old Rough Rider regiment was a feature of the ceremonies. Reading of a message from President Coolidge is to precede the dedicatory address.

NEW MOTORISTS LAW ON TODAY

Automobilists who have their licenses, or who importation others in taking examinations for licenses, can be punished by fines ranging from $20 to $500 or by imprisonment from two weeks to two years.

Register of Motor Vehicles Goodwin is calling the attention of the public to the new law which was passed by the present Legislature and became effective on July 1.

'Good Stuff' Contains 70 Per Cent Bad Alcohol

What are smart people drinking in this Summer of 1924? They were discussing the matter here and there in a downtown business office where the new law was the shadow of a fly.

All admitted that the current quart, misnamed Haze & Haze, was "the bunk." But nearly all agreed that some of the stuff that had been around for two days before was genuine; the real old pre-war stuff.

It was at that point that the brother who had furnished the "real" stuff said, "I liked that whiskey, too. So much that I went a sample to be analyzed. I got the analysis today."

STORM CAUSED $25,000,000 LOSS IN LORAIN

Columbus, Ohio, July 2 (AP)—Governor Donahoe today gave this worst picture of the results of the tornado at Lorain Saturday.

Real estate damage will reach $15,000,000. Personal property loss will be $10,000,000.

More than one-tenth of one per cent of the homes in Lorain were insured against tornado damage.

Sixty per cent of the homes destroyed or damaged are mortgaged. Four banks in Lorain had more than $1,200,000 in second mortgages against homes and other persons.

The city of Lorain, before the tornado, was indebted to the extent of $750,000. Public schools of the city were under an additional indebtedness of $200,000 and three city schools were damaged by the tornado to the extent of $25,000.

Lorain's population was 41,000. It had a tax duplicate of $60,000,000. Eight churches were destroyed or damaged so badly that they will have to be rebuilt practically.

CROWD MOURNS FOR 'LARRY' SULLIVAN

St. Benedict's Church, East Somerville, was filled today with men and women in all walks of life at the funeral services for Lawrence H. Sullivan, past exalted ruler of the Boston Lodge of Elks, and known to thousands as "Larry," who died Sunday at the summer residence in Green Hill, Nantasket.

The funeral took place from his home, No. 21 Lincoln street, East Somerville, and was followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Benedict's church. Rev. Thomas P. McCarthy was the celebrant, with Rev. John J. Hogan as deacon and Rev. Thomas P. Ferris as subdeacon.

Sixty members of the Boston Lodge of Elks, headed by the Exalted Ruler, Daniel J. Kane, were the honorary pall bearers. The pall bearers were Judge Thomas H. Dwyer of the Boston Municipal Court, Joseph M. Sullivan, John J. McCarthy, Thomas O'Connor, Patrick J. Sullivan and Thomas M. Guiney. The burial was in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

Mr. Sullivan was in his sixty-seventh year and had nearly forty years was engaged in business at South Boston and later on School street. Hundreds owe their start in life to his help.

SENDS COOLIDGE FLOWERS BY AIR MAIL

Cross-Country Fliers Making Good Time on First Trips in New Service

Chicago, July 2.—Arriving ten minutes ahead of time, Pilot Jack Knight and Harold Lewis winged in from the East at 6:51 a. m., daylight time, today in the first west-bound mail carrying plane of the United States postal service.

Chicago, July 2.—The east-bound transcontinental air mail, which left San Francisco on the initial trip to New York at 5:57 a. m., Pacific time, yesterday, was brought to Chicago today at 7:10, central standard time (9:10 eastern daylight) by Pilot William C. Hopson.

Pilot W. D. Williams, who relieved Hopson, took off east bound at 9:25 a. m., eastern daylight time. He is due at Cleveland at 12:35 a. m., eastern standard time.

In the mail chamber of the East-bound plane is a package of flowers from M. H. De Young of the San Francisco Chronicle addressed to President Coolidge. The tribute is expected to reach the "Chief Executive" in slightly more than fifty hours.

The West-bound planes come into Chicago twenty-four minutes and five minutes ahead of their respective schedules. They were greeted by a number of prominent Chicagoans and Colonel Paul H. Henderson, Assistant Postmaster General in charge of air service.

TRAP CROOKS BY TELEPHONING FINGER PRINTS

New Device Can Send Tell-tale Marks From One End of Land to the Other

How, ye crooks! The way of the transgressor, day by day, is getting tougher and tougher. Now comes the transmission of fingerprints successfully by long distance telephone to help up with the radio in assisting police to track down fugitives quickly.

Criminal experts have demonstrated that fingerprints can be wired correct in every detail from one end of the land to the other. The invention which makes this possible will be exhibited to the International Congress of Police Chiefs, which meets in Montreal July 14.

Police officials who have seen the invention working are quite enthusiastically over the results. They expect it to increase police efficiency a thousandfold.

The radio has made it possible to transmit in a few minutes after the commission of a crime, a complete description of the man or woman wanted, before they have half a chance to escape.

Now, with rapid fire fingerprint service, their chances of release when arrested on suspicion will be immensely lessened, because police will have the evidence which makes identification complete.

SLEEPLESS NEIGHBORS ASK COURT TO STOP ROXBURY DANCES

WOMAN OWNER OF 'LITTLE CLUB' IS DEFIANT

An irate band of neighbors have appealed to the court to put an end to nightly dances in the remodeled stable of Mrs. Rita Roseman, at No. 6 Gaston street, Roxbury.

A bill in equity filed by Anna Roseman, local attorney and one of the protestants, whose home on Cambridge street adjoins the Roseman estate, calls the affair a "public nuisance."

The bill also charges that Mrs. Roseman is running her stable, which goes by the name of "The Little Club," without a license.

NEIGHBOR CAN'T SLEEP
The Roseman estate, occupying several thousand feet of land, was formerly a sanitarium for alcoholics. The gymnasium is now the alleged dancing hall.

Mrs. Annie Mayne, who lives next door at No. 6 Gaston street, declared:

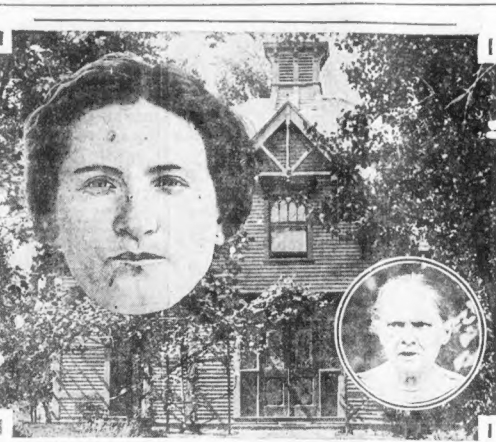

"There are dances in the stable three or four nights during some weeks and the neighbors are made to get very sleep. My son, Nathan Carter, is 15 years old, and is ill from several operations. He gets so nervous and upset at night that it is impossible to get him to sleep even after the dance is over."

"I am also under a physician's care and have to take sedatives to get quieted down after all the noise. I work hard all day to support myself and four children and I can't rest at night."

Mrs. Samuel Robinson, on Cambridge street, has a similar story.

OWNER IS UNCONCERNED
"There's nothing in it," says Mrs. Roseman. "It's a whole lot better than when there was a band of drinks here taking the cure. I bought this place two years ago and have spent a good many thousands in labor and money and I'm not going to crawl out now because

CAN'T BEAT "TZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put these weary, shoe-crushed, aching, burning, corn-piercing, bunions-tortured feet of yours in a "TZ" bath. Your feet will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk to them and they'll shake another life in them.

There's nothing like a box of "TZ" at your drug or department store. It's the only remedy that draws out the poisonous eruptions which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

BRYAN WARPS PARTY OF NOMINATING REACTIONARY

BATTLE OF BALLOTS LESSON

Shows Democratic Principle Is Greater Than Individual Aspirations

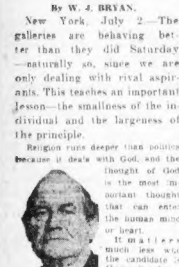

By W. J. BRYAN.

New York, July 2.—The galleries are behaving better than they did Saturday—naturally so, since we are only dealing with ritual aspirations. This teaches an important lesson—the smallness of the individual and the largeness of the principle.

Bryan runs deeper than politics. He deals with God, and the thought of God is the most important thought that can reach the human mind or heart.

In a 1924 which was the candidate of the people, he was the one who stood for the people. He was the one who stood for the people. He was the one who stood for the people.

Of the hundred millions who live under our flag—the best people in the world, but few will be remembered one hundred years after their death.

W. J. Bryan

MERE TRANSIENT FAME

Even Presidents win a transient fame, except in the case of a few immortals. With view-producers' fame is much less in amount and in duration.

And yet it is worth while. The President, during his term of office, is the mightiest influence on earth, surrounded by his energies and the great back of reform. There is no more cynical people who speak of the President as a mere transient fame, and yet it is worth while.

A government without progress would be like a stagnant pool and would soon become the center of disease and corruption. Every living thing is in motion. When it ceases to move it dies.

Not being able to speak in advance of candidates, I find it necessary to speak of that which makes such a difference in the world. The President of human rights and the advancement of human welfare.

OPPOSITE THEORIES

There are two theories as to the duty of the representative in a government like ours, viz. the aristocratic view and the democratic view. The aristocrat believes that the masses have just order enough to select representatives. In this, for them, while the democratic believes that the voters should select a representative to carry out their will.

There is another definition necessary to an understanding of the representative's duty.

There is only one line that runs through the two theories, and that is, where, viz. the line that separates the man who is at least an aristocrat and the man who is at least a democrat.

The democratic believes that society is built from the bottom, while the aristocrat thinks that society is descended from the top.

It is not strange that, approaching the subject from opposite standpoints, they reach opposite conclusions.

DEMOCRATIC VIEW

The democratic says "Legislature for the people, and let the prosperity of the masses run up through and be shared by all the classes that rest upon them."

The aristocrat, who is just as honest, but misled by a false philosophy says, "Legislature for the masses, and let the masses be ruled and ruled by the masses."

It makes all the difference in the world as to which side is right.

In selecting a candidate, it is a question of whether the people are all good enough to make a sound choice, or whether the people are all good enough to make a sound choice.

You cannot ascertain the bias in reality. You can only see it in the eyes of the people. You can only see it in the eyes of the people.

TO DETERMINE BIAS

There are several ways of finding out in his bias. One is to tell him the views of Laurier and Dives and then listen to his comment.

If at heart he is a democrat, his

SLEEPY POLICE CAPTAIN STOPS LOUD SPEAKER

Brighton Neighbors Shut Off From Convention Now Sure He Is G. O. P.

Is the step of a Metropolitan Police captain of more importance to the residents of Brighton than the radio reports from the National Democratic Convention in New York city?

This is a question that up-to-date has looked A. Carverday of No. 4 Market street, Brighton.

Carverday owns a fine radio set. To oblige his neighbors, he turned on the Democratic convention being broadcast via Stations WJAC and WZLX. The loud speaker placed at the window furnished up to the minute convention news to the throng gathered outside.

In the midst of the entertainment a member of the Metropolitan Police appeared. "Either shut off that radio or close the window and listen with all that noise," gruffly ordered the policeman.

The neighbors insisted that the free radio concert be continued.

The arm of the law has won out temporarily, however, and the radio set is silent.

That caution, now, is a Republican, "was the consensus of opinion of the disappointed neighbors."

ELKS ARRANGE TO BROADCAST PARADE

Comedian Billy B. Van Is to Serve as an Announcer at Special WNAC Station

The Elks parade, which is the feature of next week's convention in Boston, is to be broadcast by radio.

The parade will be broadcast from a special grand stand constructed for WNAC, Shepard Street, Billy B. Van, the comedian, a member of Alhambra, N. Y. Lodge and Joseph M. McDowell of Wolcott Lodge, will describe the parade in detail to radio fans. This description, together with the cheering and music from numerous bands and drum corps, will give the fans a fairly accurate conception of the big parade.

The first grand officer of the Elks was to arrive in Boston today to help prepare the way for the 20,000 members who will convene here next week.

CITY DECORATES.

He is Charles H. Grakelov, grand master of Philadelphia. He will have charge of the parade & week from Thursday afternoon. It is estimated that the parade will draw from 100,000 to 200,000 visitors to Boston.

Grakelov will establish headquarters at Copley-Plaza Hotel.

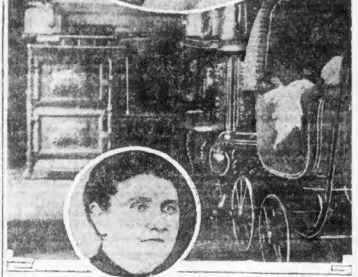

Boston is beginning to put itself in gala attire for the coming of the Elks. Hundreds of business houses are decorating their buildings with the national colors and the royal purple of "the best people on earth."

Many stores are arranging elaborate window displays in which the Elks head plays a prominent part.

One of the unique features of the entertainment program will be a fish splitting contest at Gloucester on Friday, July 11, which has been designated "North River" day. In view of the thousands of delegates and friends who will journey to Gloucester by motor car, the old sale of that airport will display their prowess in spitting cod and haddock in record time.

RADIO PRIZES.

James R. Connelly, widely known writer of thrilling sea stories, who is an Elk, will give an address at the Gloucester Lodge headquarters following the open air event.

On the way back to Boston stops will be made at all the North Shore lodges. When the delegates reach Revere they will be entertained by Giovanni Zappa, a member of Revere Lodge, whose voice is always a treat to open lovers.

More than $1,000 worth of radio apparatus has been donated as prizes for distribution from Shalman WNAC. The Shepard Stores, for receipt of the best telegrams in reply to a question that will be asked over the air. Details of the contest will be announced later.

ROBS GIRL IN STREET, ESCAPES IN AUTO

An automobile bearing the marks of a collision was watched for by the Boston and Cambridge police today as the result of a daring holdup in Providence. A handkerchief was seen flying from behind a tree, snatched an envelope containing $15 in cash and $10 in checks from Miss Esther Pink of No. 7 Walling street, Providence, then jumped into a waiting automobile and sped away. Two other men are said to have been in the machine. A few hundred yards from the scene of the holdup, the handkerchief car side-swiped another machine, but continued on out of the city in the direction of Boston.

WOMAN VICTIM OF FIRE CALLS FOR HER SON

Mrs. Ellen Clifford of Lynn Is Near Death by Explosion of Paraffin Sealing Wax

Mrs. Ellen Clifford of No. 19 West Green street, Lynn, who was nearly burned to death when paraffin wax used in sealing paraffin jars caught fire and communicated to her apron, is calling for her son as she lies in her bed at the Lynn General hospital.

The son, John J. Clifford, forty-two, is thought to be somewhere in the vicinity of Montreal. He left last Saturday on a pleasure trip, expecting to be gone until this Saturday. His car's number is Massachusetts license No. 14702. Mrs. Clifford hopes someone will notify him of her narrow escape, so that he may hurry home to her.

A grandson, eight-year-old John J. Donahue, will probably be "granny's pet" hereafter, as a result of the episode. Little John rushed downstairs when he heard his grandmother's screams and, with his bare hands, helped to put out the blaze which had started her into a human torch.

Mrs. Clifford says when the paraffin caught fire she sought to carry it to the sink, with her apron over the blazing pan. Her clothes were burned nearly off her. A couple of pennies, found scattered and scattered in the apron pocket, attest to the fearful heat she suffered.

A year-old great-grandson was rushed to safety in the baby carriage by a neighbor, Mrs. Katherine Hogan. The child was not five feet from Mrs. Clifford when the fire started.

SLEDGE HAMMER BURGLARS GET BUSY AGAIN

Plumbers' Store in Orient Heights Is Cracked, but They Get Only $2.25

The "sledge-hammer" safe robbers who created such havoc in East Boston about two weeks ago, are at work again.

During the night they broke into the plant of Carpenter & Patterson, plumbers' supplies, at No. 1190 Brighton avenue, Orient Heights, and cracked the firm's strong box in their usual ravening style.

The police, as before, are sure the robbers are local characters, rather than professionals, because of their method. Using a sledge-hammer or crow-bar, they batter away at the dial until the tumblers move and the safe opens.

Their latest effort did not reap the gains enough for the price of a lusty breakfast, though, for the Carpenter & Patterson safe yielded only $2.25 in small change. Value also papers and books were scattered all over the office in their search for possible hidden currency.

Police officials think they have a clue and expect to make an arrest before nightfall.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON VACATION DAYS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

VACATION days are here. We find ourselves dreaming of the blue sea and hole, and longing to be basking on the water, or eating down the coast of Cape Cod before a sparkling sunrise.

And then, we look at our pocket, our prospects, our interests and our cash, and make up our mind to stick to business this summer.

Considering which the last edition is about it. Let's see, you on your hands, and when you take hold again you can let harder.

But, for that matter, it's a poor plan to wait for vacation for relaxation. We ought to do some of it every day. That's what the hardest who knows how to let go.

Keeping yourself going at it brings success—maybe, also, peace.

Every life needs a little vagueness, to offset the bondage.

Take a day off now and then. Stack up your papers, and if anything comes up let George deal.

Get away, and don't take anything or anybody with you. Play Hatten Al Rasool.

Take about a little sleep. Chat with the pawnbroker. Get the banana peddler's ideas.

Go down to where the shipping is. At the water's edge is always the latest.

Or go into the country. Sit on a log and write a stack.

Lean back against a tree, and listen to the universe.

Find a lake, and look long at it, and let your mind run down.

Follow a brook up the way to nowhere.

You are an animal yourself.

You forget that you are a man.

But, Don't forget, or Don't.

Slow up! Let the thundering train of progress go by, and smile as you hear its roar as it wails in the distance.

Poillon Sisters' 21 Years' Record Again Recalled

Their record of 21 years in the hotel business is recalled.

1903—Katherine sued William Gould Brokaw for $250,000 for breach of promise. The case was settled out of court for $17,500.

1905—Sisters evicted from hotel.

1907—Fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

1908—Arrested on a charge of defrauding the Hotel Bristol of $115. In defense they said Magistrate Barlow had agreed to pay their hotel bills. They got three months in the penitentiary and the pictures were put in the "Rogues' Gallery."

1909—Charlotte arrested, accused of beating a negro bellboy.

1910—The manager of the Hotel Willard asked for a summons to get sisters out of the hotel. He said they would not pay the bill.

1912—Charlotte sued Rector's Cafe for $25,000, asserting she had been ejected from that place. The defendant said she had appeared there in man's attire.

1916—Charlotte was sued by a former boarder to recover $25 lost to her.

1923—Sisters were accused of defrauding Charles Danberry out of $3000 in securities. The case was dismissed on recommendation of the district attorney.

No, Not Not That!

Not merely a Complete Dish—frequently a Complete Meal

There is nothing so appetizing, so completely satisfying, so delicious and so wholesome as Heinz Cooked Spaghetti.

A famous Italian chef furnished the recipe for this wonderful food—but it is Heinz quality through and through. Heinz makes the dry spaghetti. The Tomato Sauce is Heinz made—and the cheese is a special Heinz selection. The cooking and seasoning are done in the spotless Heinz kitchens—home of the famous "57".

HEINZ COOKED Spaghetti with Cheese and 57 Tomato Sauce.

"Oh, you believe that!" said Chickie.
